-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☐ Responsive to communication(s) filed on ____.
- 2a) ☐ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☒ This action is non-final.
- 3) ☐ Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "the hot air blowout portion" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. This claim should depend from claim 5 in which a hot-air blowout tool is set forth.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Sieger et al. (5,218,849). Sieger discloses a method of incremental forming by using a roller tool (3) moved by a moving means (5) along a contour line. Forming chamber (4) is used to clamp a periphery of a workpiece (12). Heating means (8) is moved along the contour line with the roller tool. Heating means (14) is a hot air blower which blows heated air against the workpiece.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Luttgaharm (6,532,786). Luttgaharm discloses an incremental forming machine comprising a table (22), a workpiece clamp (34,505), a spindle (50) and a means for relatively moving the table and spindle (column 4, lines 59-64). Luttgaharm discloses in column 8, lines 57-68 and in figs. 4A-4E that the spindle mounts different forming tools in an exchangeable manner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Luttgaharm (6,532,786) in view of Sieger et al. (5,218,849). Luttgaharm discloses an incremental forming machine comprising a table (22), a workpiece clamp (34,505), a spindle (50) and a means for relatively moving the table and spindle (column 4, lines 59-64). Luttgeharm discloses in column 8, lines 57-68 and in figs. 4A-4E that the spindle mounts different forming tools in an exchangeable manner. Luttgeharm does not disclose a hot air blowout tool. Sieger discloses heating means (14) that is a hot air blower which blows heated air against the workpiece. It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of invention to provide Luttgeharm with a hot air blowout tool as taught by Sieger in order to adjust a temperature of the workpiece.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 5 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 5 is allowable because the prior art of record does not disclose an exchangeable hot-air blowout tool useable with an incremental forming tool wherein the exchangeable tool comprises a shank portion to be inserted into the spindle, a hot air blowout portion, an electric heater, a sensor and a controller.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
